natural JUXTAPOSITION

Our innate desire to build the habitat of a home stems from a natural need to connect with our surroundings. Interior spaces that are reminiscent of outdoor elements provide an indescribable comfort; a retreat we yearn for to balance the hustle of a busy day. The pairing of geometric pattern and organic materials is prevalent in nature yet unexpectedly invigorating in the home. Allow angular lighting forms to add luminosity to your space as both an element of function and a contemplative feature of design.

Styling tip: Add color with deep tranquil blues and earthy greens to complement the warmth of sleek natural wood and woven textiles.
